

PLUTO SEAL

PLUTO SEAL is a single molded pull tight security seal specially designed for tote box applications and logistics operations. Once applied, the tag and strap point downward, ensuring the seal does not interfere with stacking, making it ideal for storage, transportation, and distribution environments.

The seal is designed so that markings, serial numbers, and barcodes remain clearly visible from the side of the box, allowing easy identification and inspection without moving or opening the boxes. Durable and easy to use, PLUTO SEAL provides reliable tamper evidence for various applications.
